

DAVID C. CHILDS

Mr. Childs is a senior procurement policy specialist for the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) Office of Federal Procurement Policy, where he serves as a focal point for competitive sourcing, franchising, and other privatization issues.

Mr. Childs is the author of the "March 1996 OMB Circular A-76 Revised Supplemental Handbook," which provides Federal agencies policy guidance regarding the conduct of public-public and public-private cost comparisons and is generally responsible for its implementation. Mr. Childs is the author of the OMB Circular A-76 Transmittal Memorandum No. 20, which implements the Federal Activities Inventory Reform Act (FAIR) and is generally responsible for the development, implementation and enforcement of its requirements to identify and manage inventories of commercial activities. Mr. Childs serves as OMB's central point-of-contact for OMB Circular A-97, "Rules and Regulations Permitting Federal Agencies to Provide Specialized or Technical Services to State and Local Units of Government," which provides the framework for establishing service relationships between Federal, State and local agencies and is responsible for the implementation of Executive Order 12803, "Infrastructure Privatization, " which established criteria for the sale of Federally financed State or local infrastructure assets. And finally, Mr. Childs is currently involved in the development of the Administration's Managerial Flexibility Act (S. 1612) and the Administration's proposed legislation, "The Budgetary Cost and Performance Integration Act of 2002."

Mr. Childs is a career Federal employee, with over 25 years of cost benefit and Government contracting experience and holds a Masters of Public Finance. In addition to serving at OMB, he has served with the United States Railway Association, the Federal Railroad Administration, the United States Naval Facilities Engineering Command and the General Services Administration.
